Happy Mother's Day - May 2020

All Heroes Don't Wear Capes

At Riverton Tower Senior Center, we have many heroes for whom to be thankful. They don't fight bad guys, but they are doing their best to fight off the Corona Virus for our wonderful RTSC residents. Our heroes are essential workers who continue to remain at their posts to make life better for the residents and keep things up and running smoothly.

These heroes are Beth Bailey & John Manzone, Housekeepers Extraordinaire, our maintenance team including Roy Bridger, James Camuso, Doug Wilkerson, Judy Sullivan, Carl Hardy, and Ed Coulther, and accountant Gregg Heffelfinger. Along with our staff, a big thanks goes to our residents. Thanks so much to Gary Beckman for donating several cans of disinfectant since this item seems to be missing from the stores these days. And thanks to Marlene Leggett who donated several masks. Finally, a big thanks to residents remaining in isolation to help flatten the virus curve.

Special Applause

Let's face it...can't mask our appreciation for Sherry Jones. She provided some beautiful face masks for all the staff and residents to help keep us safe! Many thanks to you Sherry.

Everything's Coming Up Roses

We are most fortunate to have residents who like to play in the dirt. If you've been in your apartment too long and need a bit of fresh air while still practicing social distancing, take a stroll around our property. You will love what you see. Many thanks to Emil Kotik, Lee Holloway and Priscilla Roberts for all their hard work making our grounds look just beautiful.

Bluebird update:

by Emil Kotik

The five bluebird eggs, pictured in last month's Riverton Review, have all hatched. They successfully grew up and fledged. This photo was taken about a week after they hatched. The proud parents are now starting a second brood, with new eggs in the nest.

Car Detailing

A friend of Monika Drake has a son named Peyton Harkrider. This young man tries to make some money for college/university and is detailing automobiles. He comes to us and does the job right here in our parking lot. He is a fine young man.

Monika had her car done recently, and it looks brand spanking new inside and out as it is all shiny and clean.

Monika highly recommends him. You can reach Peyton Harkrider at 904-521-1975. Please tell him Monika recommended him to you.

Register to Vote in the November Election

In order to vote November 3 you must vote from the Precinct in which you reside. You may register in person Monday through Friday at the Supervisor of Elections Office, 105 East Monroe Street. You may also complete a voter registration application at any branch of the Jacksonville Public Library or Tax Collector's Office. For registration forms or to transfer your registration from your old address to your new address call 630-1414. For complete info visit duvalelections.com.

After you have registered you will receive a voter card in the mail.

Laff Line

Q - What does the ocean say to the beach?

A - Nothing, it just waves.
